INTRODUCTION

Language is the very foundation on which we rely to interact and communicating with others about our needs and thoughts. Babies are ready to communicate from the moment they are born into this world. They observe and listen to people and objects in their surroundings, and respond appropriately to what they hear and see. Their cries and gestures with subtle nuances often convey different needs. This innate ability to communicate verbally and non-verbally is the starting point from which language is developed. A child's language development capabilities are greatly influenced by being in a positive environment rich with words, rhythm, sounds, etc.

However, even with the abundance of tuition centers around us, there are still many children who are unable to speak Mandarin fluently with proper vocabulary, which is vital in learning as well as making friends. The difficulties faced by children who experienced language delay will only exacerbate as they grow older, especially in reading and speaking. Seimpi's Chinese Speech and Drama program is designed to give your children the right support from their earliest days so they can achieve their maximum potential. We base our curriculum on the MOE curriculum. With our unique MIM teaching approaches, we strive to bring to our students a lifelong interest in the Chinese Language and Drama, assisting children to achieve a mastery level in the overall language skills.

2 years old is an age where linguistic development is at its peak. Although some may not know how to speak clearly or may not be able to string a sentence when they speak, they can absorb sound and nuances by listening and imitating quite instantly. With this awareness in mind, we have carefully design speaking and drama activities that are age appropriate, using pin-yin, visual aids, stories, mimes and play to assist toddlers in acquiring good habits in speaking. It helps to improve pronunciation, vocabulary and to avoid the usual mistakes that some children make when speaking Mandarin. Pin-yin will be emphasized during speech delivery sessions in context to ensure they know how to express themselves with clarity. This will help them to understand the importance of Pin-yin through cultivating their ability to hear and manipulate the sound of the language. Apart from the more direct output of this course, toddlers also learn to express themselves, behaving appropriately in different social settings and develop an interest for the love of Chinese drama. Our trainers are qualified Chinese speech and drama teachers who understand the development of children of preschool ages.
