Guidelines

SEIMPI ACADEMY

Seimpi Academy is the professional certificate awarding institution of Seimpi Education group of companies. Seimpi Education first made its foray in Singapore in the year of 2002. We specialize in training music, speech & drama, languages to children as young as 2 months old to the adult level. Our proprietary course, the Music for the Intelligent Mind (MIM®) has won several accolades, being one of the leading early childhood music courses in the region that has been accredited by an international examination board in the United Kingdom (2011).

While the distinctive method has produced the best outcomes in the student we have worked with, including both children and adults, the MIM® teaching philosophy and idea have grown to include various courses over the years. The need to constantly rebuild, refresh, and resurrect outdated teaching concepts in order to comply with the most recent developments in the learning world is obvious in Seimpi's efforts to instil the most recent teaching tools, techniques, and interventions.

Seimpi have focused one of our instructional initiatives, particularly during the past three years, on digital engagements. The current learning environment has a new horizon thanks to the digital performing arts education. More and more options are available for student who want to study the performing arts on their own schedule and in the comfort of their own homes. We have reached a turning point where we can make learning and examination more inclusive with the experience we gained teaching students from Singapore, as well as in South East Asia, and working with various examination boards for the new digitalized test. In doing so, the "make or break" pressure associated with taking an exam will be removed, enhancing the learning and attaining process.

Seimpi Performing Arts Certificate (SPAC)

SPAC, the Seimpi Performing Arts Certificate, was created as a result of the ongoing renewal and restructuring of how we interact with the students. SPAC is designed as a series of performing arts program with a formal examination attached at the end of each course. It seeks to eliminate the rigidity associated with the performing arts examination and bring learning and assessment practices more in line with the most recent educational philosophy in Singapore, which consistently tops rankings for education due to its pragmatism and strong pedagogical excellence. Teachers in Singapore constantly work to foster independent learners by providing instruction and assessment as a vital part of the process of acquiring skills and information.

SPAC provides students with the necessary learning resources at the start of each level, rather than merely constructing examination syllabuses to aim for the end results. Students either complete the curriculum while attending in-person lessons or, in the case of e-learning courses, while following a series of instructional videos. The final examination for the course is done through the submission of videos. The performance in the video will be graded by our panel of examiners, who will provide marks based on the marking criteria for each level. Student will receive a certificate after successfully completing the course and meeting the exam requirements, with the ultimate achievement listed as either distinction, merit, or pass.

SPAC Syllabus

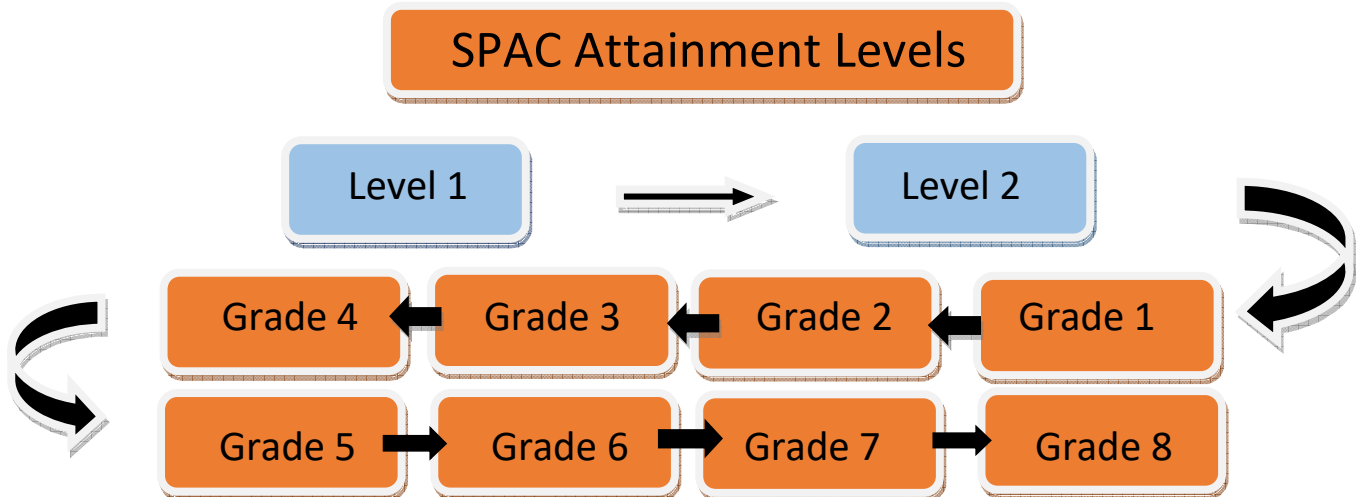

1. Syllabus Introduction

The SPAC exam syllabus embodies the attitude and goals that Seimpi Academy strives to realize: to provide chances to every student as equally as we possibly can; to develop and to inspire via performing arts instruction in an inspiring and encouraging manner. The purpose of it is to provide recommendations for students to comprehend their learning milestones and to pave the route for future growth and success. In order to accurately assess and look into the actual talents of the student, the final exam is administered with the least amount of pressure and anxiety possible.

The exam consists of two main components: Performance and Supporting Skills. The syllabus is carefully created to make sure that the knowledge and abilities are scaffolded systematically to reach a professional standard in the industry.

5. Rationale

Due to the advancement of technology and changes in our way of life, music and arts education has evolved recently. With artists showing their talent on social media platforms, music and arts activities in the community have grown more vibrant. To embrace music and arts learning in a completely new way at this point in time has never been more exciting. Exams continue to play a significant role in our capacity to judge a student, but the trend is moving away from summative evaluations and toward more formative ones. The process of learning, practicing, and using the abilities we learn in a way that is meaningful to our lives is now the focus. With this in mind, the SPAC is created to integrate assessment and learning content into a fluid process, eliminating the overreliance on a single exam to determine a student's proficiency.

Syllabus aims

The carefully planned syllabus (with examination included) intends to provide:

- A progressive and unified assessment system, enabling the teachers, parents and student to plan to obtain the objectives and targets set by SPAC syllabus.
- Enhanced ability in acquiring discipline in the graded studies, through in-person instructions or self-directed learning.
- Help to teachers and parents to plan for effective ways to nurture and cultivate the love in performing arts, which will lead to a lifelong passion and interests in performing arts.
- Opportunities to students to develop an understanding of arts, to improve the quality of life, embracing and celebrating lives with arts
- A seamless process in learning and evaluation that eliminate learning pressure, developing own pace in learning and practicing arts.

6. Syllabus objectives

The objectives of the SPAC syllabus are:

- To develop student' capabilities in the graded learning to ensure a smooth transition to advanced learning
- To create music and arts together as a community, cultivate discipline and motivation to learn well
- To bridge the gap of learning and assessing, thus creating a learning environment that is relaxed and at the same time, stimulating to the physique and the mind

7. Availability of SPAC syllabus and examination with entry details

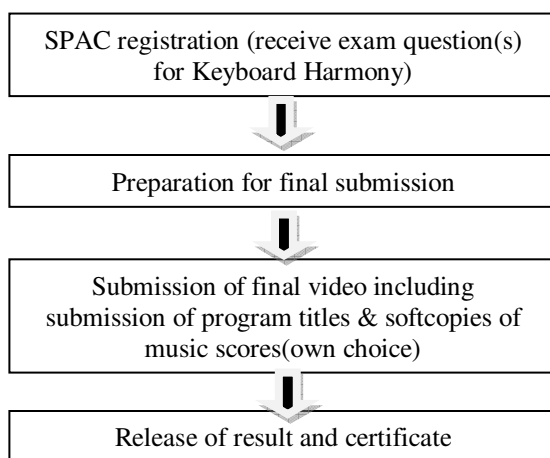

The SPAC course and examination are offered throughout the year. Once a student has completed studying and putting into practice the contents provided in the syllabus, the final video is submitted to Seimpi Academy for final grading and assessment. This allows for flexibility in how student pace their learning while adhering to the precise instructions to develop the necessary skills and knowledge for each grade.

The dissemination of final report by the examiners will be done 1 month after the submission of the final video. certificates will be issued once students pass all the necessary components in each of the graded examination.
